Amy Lien & Enzo Camacho – Who Do You Love?

It's difficult to imagine a scenario of impossible exchange, now that data has become the global general equivalent. Artists Amy Lien and Enzo Camacho will play multicultural diplomat. But whose power does this serve, really? If connectivity defines the paradigm that continuously disappoints, perhaps it's because we forget that a point of contact is also a point of separation. To view a wall begs the question of how you stand in relation to it. Who do you love?
