

10 Artists to Watch This October

By Artspace Editors
Sept. 30, 2015

From a bona fide rock star of Japanese art to an acclaimed conceptualist who mines the less savory nooks of our new online lives (yes, sex chatrooms), these are the names you'll want to know about this month.

TYLER DOBSON
47 Canal, Sept. 25 - Oct. 25

When he's not busy running his successful Greenpoint gallery Real Fine Arts, Tyler Dobson makes multimedia works evoking a kind of smirking nostalgia for suburban visions of adolescence; alternative rock, summer (or winter) houses, and New Yorker cartoons have all worked their way into recent installations. His new show at 47 Canal is called "A World Without Tears," an apt description of the mystical land his work references.
