

CULTURED

Here Are the 17 Must-See New York Gallery Shows of the New Year

From George Condo's wild improvisations to Nicole Eisenman's large-scale reliefs, you don't want to miss these exhibitions.

WORDS: Cultured Magazine
January 6, 2025

Jay Carrier, Devil's Hole Mythology, 2015. Image courtesy of the artist and 47 Canal.

"Other Side of the River" by Jay Carrier

When: January 9 - February 15, 2025

Where: 47 Canal

Why It's Worth A Look:

Across a plethora of abstract canvases, Jay Carrier extolls the natural beauty of his hometown: Niagara Falls. His first New York solo since 2006, the exhibition features paintings created from the mid-2000s onwards, highlighting the artist's longstanding fascination with the area.

Know Before You Go: The show's title refers to Niagara Falls itself, which divides the U.S. from Canada, and which Carrier himself crossed with his family in early childhood after being born on the Six Nations on the Grand River reserve up North.